Alana Ladson Art

Alana Ladson Art is a small black women-owned business that creates fashion enamel pins, art prints, stickers and more of BIPOC women along with other magical beings. Long ago, I saw little to no faces like mine in the art that viewed. For this reason, I began to sell my works of art in hopes that others could see themselves through them. One of the many places the inspiration for the products comes from is beautiful BIPOC women, nature and magical, ethereal beings- which are all filled with strength, culture, passion, and love. Those who wear or see an Alana Ladson Art piece are meant to feel joyful beautiful, powerful and at peace.

Emergent Access Services

Emergent Access Services will give people the option in less emergent cases visiting the emergency room to pre-register, put in possible symptoms, get transportation if needed and access live service providers like Registered Nurses, Licensed Clinical Social Workers and Patient Advocates. The App grants perspective patients the opportunity of waiting where they'd like for the duration of an emergency room visit at a place they feel more comfortable and get alerted when its almost their allotted time to be seen.
